The policy may change with or without notice.

Explanation of Clinical Course Charges:

Clinical course tuition is $2,800 per 270-hour clinical course.

The program requires three (3) clinical courses, for a total of 810 on-site clinical hours.

Under the standard program sequence, Clinical Courses 1, 2, and 3 are typically scheduled and charged in Terms 3, 4, and 5, respectively. Under this standard sequence, clinical course tuition is included in the overall tuition charged for the terms 3, 4, and 5.

However, clinical scheduling may vary from the standard sequence due to student readiness, clinical site availability, or other clinical scheduling requirements.

Clinical scheduling rules require that the credit load for a clinical course be assigned to the academic term in which the majority of the clinical hours for that course are scheduled to be completed. As a result, and depending on when clinical rotation begins, more than one clinical course may be assigned to the same term.

When this occurs, the clinical course tuition may be posted to the student ledger as a separate tuition charge to ensure charges are applied to the academic term in which the clinical course is assigned.

If two clinical courses are assigned to the same term, the tuition charge for one of the clinical courses may be deferred and applied to the following term.

Under normal circumstances, the combined tuition charges for didactic coursework and clinical course(s) will not exceed $8,400 in any single term. Exceptions may occur if additional didactic courses are required due to course repeats, retakes, or similar circumstances, and/or if tuition charges for multiple clinical courses must be applied in the same term.

Cost of Attendance 26/27 Award Year

Cost of attendance (COA) is the total estimated cost of attending a college or university per academic year . It includes tuition and fees, housing and food, books and supplies, transportation, personal expenses, and other education-related costs. Colleges use the COA to show the estimated total cost of attendance and to determine a student's eligibility for financial aid. The COA is used as a planning and financial aid tool and does not necessarily represent the actual cost of the program.
